“Of beginnings and transitions...”

With great pleasure it's been my nine months and twenty three days as your Commander in this Service. At the outset, let me express my heartfelt appreciation to all of you, the men and women of AFP Procurement Service for upholding so intensely the missions, thrusts and core values of this Service.

We will surge ahead with various programs in order to deepen further our involvement in all procurement operations. This is to ensure that while we strategically align ourselves to achieve our mandated mission and our vision; we will remain keen and steadfast to effectively and efficiently deliver quality procurement service.

Christmas is one of the wonderful times of the year when almost the world celebrates their existence. Celebrating Christmas is so magical that its name alone brings that lovely smile on the faces of people as we see happiness in hearts of the people.

With the numerous things that happened during the year 2017, it's a great time to look back with a grateful heart. Since day one of my stint as your Commander, each of you has contributed in helping me perform my tasks. I cannot thank you all enough. Your perseverance, fortitude, diligence and sacrifices truly made a difference in how I deal with my work as your leader. Let me also extend my heartfelt thanks to your family and loved ones for their patience, understanding and sacrifices. If some of our personnel cannot attend a special occasion, please know that they wanted to attend but they just can't because duty calls. You are our great source of strength and inspiration despite missing some important events, know that we love you and what we are doing are, first and foremost, for the sake of the family.

In the same way that early societies celebrated the start of the new year, each of us look to the coming days with new hope and greater fervor, strengthened by the valuable experiences, the inspiring triumphs and the painful and bitter lessons learned the hard way; and just like the traveler who has reached another milestone, we again stand at the crossroads of yet another leg in the greatest of all adventures that is LIFE.

As we bid farewell for year 2017 and welcomes 2018 that holds special meaning for it symbolizes another period of growth... another chapter of accomplishment... a renewal of commitment to the service and reaffirmation of our sacred covenant with our people.

Today, as we once again manifest our adherence and reverence to our mandate as the protector of the state and people that distinctly define us from other organizations. For in the observance of such customs, we link ourselves with the proud heritage of Filipino soldiery; allowing us to reflect on the purpose of our calling. And in the process, chart our future through the renewal of our individual and institutional resolve to be true professionals. Even as we pray for more blessings as the year unfolds, let us also call to mind our comrades who cannot be with us today due to circumstances dictated by duty or destiny. As we gather in fellowship today to share good wishes for the New Year, let us renew our commitment, reaffirm our duty and loyalty to our oaths.

BGEN ERNESTO T LOPENA AFP
6th Commander, Armed Forces of the Philippines Procurement Service
10 March 2017 - to date

Truly, we have made modest gains in our procurement mandate and have much to be thankful for. I encourage each and every one to start the year 2018 with optimism and hope, meaningful change and a brighter future can only take place if we conscientiously reflect on the events of the past year; honestly assess our strengths and weaknesses; re-direct our energies towards rectifying our shortcomings and mistakes; and impose upon ourselves the dedication to the values of our profession and the accomplishment of our mission.

Let us continue to enhance our systems and capabilities that will make the AFPPS more effective in its mandate. Let us likewise continue on a steady path towards attaining the vision of quality service which adheres to continual improvement through good governance with competent military and civilian personnel targeting a modernized procurement service.

And so, these things said, let us move forward. Every year is a new beginning for AFPPS, and every year brings new opportunities. I with my family wishing you a Merry Christmas and a Prosperous New Year!

"UNIQUENESS OF FILIPINO CHRISTMAS"

The AFP Procurement Service celebrated its Christmas Party last 19 December 2017 at HAFPPS Basketball Court, CGEA, Quezon City as it embraces the uniqueness of Filipino Christmas.

Philippines are known for celebrating the longest Christmas season in the world. As a matter of fact, there are ten unique Christmas traditions in the Philippines that some Filipino uniquely embraced and have transformed into something that can totally call "ours".

First, there is no other country that celebrates Christmas longer than the Philippines. As a matter of fact, once the "BER" months set in, Filipinos will begin decorating their houses, establishments, and streets with gleaming displays, huge Christmas trees, and astounding decorations.

Secondly, is the Parol or also known as Philippine lantern is a unique Filipino decoration traditionally made from colourful papers, bamboo sticks, and shaped-like five-pointed star.

Third is the Simbang Gabi or Misa de Gallo is in almost everyone's bucket list. It is a tradition originated in the early Spanish colonial period as a practical compromise for Filipino farmers who began working before sunrise, to avoid working in the fields under the heat of the sun.

Fourth, is like any other countries, Christmas is celebrated with songs and praises or CAROLING. Usually, in the Philippines, group of people would fill the streets visiting houses with their instruments like tambourines and guitars singing their favorite Christmas songs.

Fifth, is the "Panunuluyan" is another Filipino tradition observed in some provinces in the Philippines. This tradition is similar to Mexican Posadas where the journey of Mary and Joseph in search for shelter while Mary was pregnant is being re-enacted.

Sixth is the Noche Buena, after the midnight mass on Christmas, everyone's looking forward to this event. Noche Buena is a grand family dinner and a hearty feast full of delicious Filipino food such as lechon, pancit, ham, queso de bola, and a lot more.

Seventh, is the Aguinaldo, a common tradition for every Filipinos to visit their relatives during Christmas day. During the visit, kids would practice the old-age tradition "mano" as an act of respect to elders. This is when they receive their "pamasko". These gifts are popularly called as "Aguinaldo".

Eight is the, Monita-Monita. Speaking of gifts, another adaptation of Secret Santa is called "Monito Monita". It is a form of exchanging gifts where every participant has his or her anonymous gifts.

Ninth, is the BELEN popular decoration in the Philippines are the belen. The Belen is similar to the Nativity Scene in many western nations that shows the Holy Family the birth of Jesus.

And lastly, the celebration of Three Kings a religious event in the Philippines celebrated with a mass, every January 6. It also marks the end of the Christmas season.

AFPPS Trains Personnel

As part of preparation and transition to ISO 9001:2015 next year, AFPPS facilitated another training entitled Problem Solving Process: with Highlights on Root Cause Analysis, Correction and Corrective Action which aims to enhance the competencies of its personnel thus strengthen its Quality Management System. The said training was held last 28 September 2017 at the AFPPS Conference Room and was conducted by the Assistant QMS Officer, AFPPS, Ms. Elloisa B. Perez, civilian employee. It was opened by the QMR, AFPPS, CDR FRANKLIN B ROTONI PN followed by an introduction to the resource speaker by the QMS Officer, MAJ FRANCISCO BUTCH B CANZADO (CAV) PA.

Likewise, Problem Solving Process was attended by Unit/Office Heads from HAFPPS, GHQPC and 302nd CO and the appointed auditors and auditor-in-training. In this training, problems encountered such as non-conformities will be given result through profound analysis and not just getting the symptom of such problems. Basic techniques on doing the root cause analysis were taught to come up with appropriate corrective action. Root Cause Analysis is an in-depth process or technique for identifying the most basic factor(s) underlying a variation in performance (problem). Focus is on systems and processes and not on blaming individuals. Problem-solving requires a thorough analysis leading to the Root Cause/s of the problem.

In addition, correction is an immediate/containment action, a quick fix whereas corrective action is an action to eliminate the cause/s of a detected non-conformity.

With this, this Service not only conforms to the requirement of ISO 9001:2015 but also adheres to continual improvement.

Internal Quality Audit: AFPPS Assesses Established Quality Management System

Alongside with the preparation to ISO 9001:2015 certification, Internal Quality Audit was held on four (4) dates: 07 November 2017 302nd Contracting Office, 08 Headquarters AFPPS, 09 November 2017 GHQ Procurement Center and 22 November 2017 IQA Process Audit. The said audit aims to assess the conformance of HAFPPS, GHQPC and 302nd CO to ISO 9001:2015 and other relevant requirements as well as continually improve the implementation of AFPPS' quality management system and its performance.

Generally, as a result of the audit, HAFPPS, GHQPC and 302nd CO continuously implement and improve the established quality objectives in accordance to ISO 9001:2015 and other relevant requirements. However, there were observed opportunities for improvement raised by the audit team that need to be addressed and give appropriate action for further continual improvement.

Avoid firework injuries and keep your family safe on New Year's Eve

"Many Filipinos consider New Year's Day as an important holiday in the Philippines. This sets the start of a new year in the Gregorian calendar, which is used in many countries including the Philippines."

The New Year's Day/New Year's Eve celebrations start on December 31 and continue through to January 1. New Year's Day in the Philippines is short but uniquely celebrated throughout the country. This is also the time of the year when many Filipino families get together and strengthen their family ties. New Year's Day in the Philippines is a joyful holiday that is characterized with the intermarriage of religion and paganism which are the attributes of a once Hispanic Philippine Society.

New Year's Eve safety tips Dispose of used firecrackers properly by soaking them in water before throwing them away. This prevents them from catching fire and exploding at cleanup time.

Safety first! Exercise caution when celebrating with fireworks.

•New Year's Eve is a night to have fun and celebrate the coming year. However, safety is a must when participating in the festivities. Whether you're staying in and celebrating with friends and family, or you're traveling to a party or city bash, following a few safety tips will ensure that you're safe and sound when the clock strikes midnight, ringing in the New Year!

•Designate a Driver: If you are going to be driving New Year's Eve, don't drink and drive. If you have a friend who does not prefer to drink, make sure they take the wheel. You might even be on the water this New Year's Eve. The person in charge of navigating the boat needs to be cautious, and this still applies to them. It is important to be safe on the water as well, so drink sensibly

•Be Alert: Be aware of your surroundings and how others are acting. Stay away from those who are out of control and might cause harm. Taking preventive measures is key. If someone is really intoxicated, prevent them from trying to drive or leaving with someone they do not know. It's important to keep an eye out for each other.

•Don't Drive: If you don't have to go behind the wheel, avoid it. More people will be driving under the influence on this particular night, so avoid a potentially dangerous accident by staying off the road. Otherwise, be alert and drive defensively. Most importantly, wear your seat belt. Also, using public transportation is a wise option. If taking a cab is too expensive, crashing at a friend's place nearby is a convenient solution.

•Stick Together: This way we can look out for our friends and family. Going out to parties and nightclubs means a fast-paced, crazy night; so be sure to travel in groups. Having a safety net around you in this environment is imperative.

•Monitor your Alcohol Intake: A majority of people will be drinking on New Year's Eve, and there is nothing wrong with that. Just be sure to pay attention to how much you and others are consuming. Drinking too much alcohol can have lethal affects. Be responsible.

•Don't forget about your pets. They are just as much a part of the family as everyone else. If you are using fireworks, anything with loud noises, or fire, be sure that pets are kept at a distance as well as children. None of these are a good mix.

•Be careful with open flames: If you're burning candles, incense or oil burners, remember to extinguish them before you turn in or before you leave the room they are burning in. Pay extra attention to pets and children around open flames.

•Be extra careful with Fireworks: If you are letting off fireworks in a residential area, be sure to practice proper safety precautions when using them. Let off fireworks in a field or other open area where homes and power lines are out of sight. Have a fire extinguisher nearby and never try to re-light a firework that did not go off when first lit. Also, be sure pets and children are at a safe distance from where fireworks are being ignited. Finally, always have an adult present when using any type of firework.

•Everyone wants to have an unforgettable night -- in a good way. By simply using some common sense, we can keep it that way. Ring in the New Year safely.
